

Barbados Intelligent Distribution Box Equipment Manufacturer

AI Overview

Power Technologies Caribbean Ltd. and Williams Industries Inc. are key providers of intelligent distribution box and power system solutions in Barbados. Power Technologies Caribbean Ltd. (PTCL) PTCL is a Barbados-based company specializing in power quality solutions and critical power systems. Founded in 2003, PTCL offers design, installation, and maintenance of intelligent power distribution systems for local and regional organizations. Their services include customized power systems support, ensuring operational reliability for businesses, banks, and industrial clients. PTCL's team consists of certified, factory-trained field engineers capable of handling complex electrical and IT-integrated power solutions, making them a leading choice for intelligent distribution equipment in the Caribbean (Power Technologies Caribbean Ltd.). Williams Industries Inc. (WII) Williams Industries Inc. is a diversified Caribbean conglomerate headquartered in St. Thomas, Barbados. Among its many operations, WII engages in electrical engineering and supply to the construction industry, which includes manufacturing and providing electrical equipment such as distribution boxes. WII operates through wholly owned and joint venture companies across Barbados and other Caribbean islands, offering a broad range of industrial and electrical solutions (Williams Industries Inc.). Additional Notes While there are listings for general packaging and distribution box manufacturers in Barbados, these primarily focus on cardboard and packaging solutions rather than electrical distribution equipment. For intelligent power distribution boxes specifically, PTCL and WII are the most relevant local providers. Businesses seeking to procure or install intelligent distribution systems in Barbados can contact these companies directly for customized solutions, quotations, and technical support. For bulk procurement or w...
