

Cable Tray Price Inquiry and Selection

AI Overview

Cable trays range from around $4 to over $120 per section depending on type, material, and size, with selection guided by cable type, load, and installation environment.

Types of Cable Trays

- Ladder Cable Tray: Open design with rungs and side rails, ideal for heavy power cables and long spans. Offers excellent ventilation and prevents moisture buildup, with rung spacing typically 6-12 inches depending on cable size.
- Ventilated Cable Tray: Similar to ladder trays but with smaller openings, suitable for multi-conductor instrumentation and control cables requiring extra protection.
- Solid-Bottom Cable Tray: Provides full protection for cables, often used for small control or instrumentation cables in low-heat applications.
- Wire Mesh (Basket) Tray: Lightweight, flexible, and easy to install, commonly used for light power, telecommunications, and fiber optics.
- Channel Tray: Supports branch runs or dropouts from main trays, can be solid or ventilated, sometimes used to reduce electromagnetic interference.
- One-Piece Tray: Continuous metal sheet, used for aesthetic applications or short spans (up to 10 ft) supporting light-duty cables.

Materials and Finishes

- Steel: Pre-galvanized or hot-dip galvanized for corrosion resistance.
- Stainless Steel (316L): High corrosion resistance, suitable for harsh environments.
- Aluminum: Lightweight, naturally corrosion-resistant, and easily formable.
- Fiberglass: Non-conductive, corrosion-resistant, and fire-resistant, ideal for chemical or outdoor environments.

Pricing Overview

- Small trays and supports: $4-$35 per piece (e.g., 2" high trays, vertical supports) for light-duty or under-desk applications.
- Wire mesh or basket trays: $30-$120 per 10-foot section depending on width and finish.
- Specialty or heavy-duty trays: Ladder trays, solid-bottom, or aluminum trays can exceed $100 per section, with accessories like splice clips, dropouts, and mounting brackets adding $10-$70 per item.
- Consumer/office trays: Under-desk cable management trays range from $10-$50 for small setups.
