

Malta Long-Span Cable Tray Manufacturer

AI Overview

Brownrig Supplies and FBPMalta are key providers of long-span and mesh cable trays in Malta, with additional options through international manufacturers listed on Europages. Local Manufacturers and Suppliers Brownrig Supplies Direct Ltd. is a leading supplier of mechanical and electrical products in Malta, offering a range of galvanized steel cable trays suitable for industrial and commercial projects. Their central location in Malta's harbour area allows for efficient storage and distribution of installation materials and components for various projects. FBPMalta provides both cable trays and mesh trays, catering to electrical and industrial applications. They offer solutions for organizing and supporting cables in large-scale installations, including long-span configurations. Conversa specializes in network infrastructure and cable management, including overhead and underground cable installations. While primarily focused on IT and networking, they provide comprehensive cable laying, testing, and certification services, which can complement long-span cable tray installations. International Manufacturers with Malta Presence The PIT Group and other companies listed on Europages offer cable management systems, including straight-through and mesh cable trays. These manufacturers provide high-quality, project-based solutions and may supply Malta-based projects through local distributors or direct export. Companies like Eurotray and VALDINOX also specialize in wire mesh cable trays and accessories suitable for long-span applications. Considerations for Selection When choosing a long-span cable tray manufacturer in Malta, consider: Material and finish: Galvanized steel or wire mesh for durability and corrosion resistance. Span capacity: Ensure the trays can support the required cable load over long distances. Installation support: Some suppliers offer design, installati...
