

Moroccan fiber optic patch cord

AI Overview

Morocco has developed advanced domestic fiber optic patch cord technology, led by FBR Cables, with state-of-the-art production facilities and high-performance standards. Domestic Manufacturing and Industrial Capacity Morocco's fiber optic industry has seen significant growth, particularly with the establishment of FBR Cables' new industrial unit in Berrechid. This facility, inaugurated in February 2026, spans 15,000 square meters and consolidates all operations into a single platform, increasing annual production capacity to 70,000 kilometers of fiber optic cables, covering nearly 60% of domestic demand (estimated at 120,000-130,000 km per year) and supporting FTTH (Fiber to the Home) deployments. The plant represents a MAD 200 million ($21.86 million) investment and is fully Moroccan-owned, reinforcing the country's industrial and digital sovereignty. Technological Capabilities FBR Cables produces a wide range of fiber optic and network cables, including high-performance indoor, outdoor, aerial, and micro-cables, as well as Cat6 to Cat8 network cables for advanced data infrastructure. The facility is equipped with state-of-the-art technology, ensuring compliance with international quality standards, rigorous production control, and reliable delivery aligned with project milestones. This enables Morocco to manufacture fiber optic patch cords and accessories that meet global performance requirements. Industry Impact and Expertise The Berrechid facility creates 165 direct jobs and supports over 500 indirect jobs through local suppliers and partners, contributing to Morocco's industrial ecosystem. FBR Cables supplies major telecom operators, including Orange Maroc, INWI, and Maroc Telecom, and exports to African markets such as Guinea, Mali, Burkina Faso, and Gabon. The company also provides technical support from specification to commissioning, ensuring optimized deployment of fiber optic networks. Complementary Services and Training In addition to manufacturing, Moroccan companies like FIBER CORP provide...
