

Myanmar Imported Fiber Optic Cables for Smart Buildings Factory

OM1 Fiber Patch Cable Family

AI Overview

Myanmar imports fiber optic cables primarily from Vietnam, India, and Japan, with local companies like Fortune International and Merry Mesh Network Integration providing supply and installation services for smart building projects.

Import Overview Myanmar imports a significant volume of fiber optic cables to support its growing digital infrastructure. According to Volza import data, the country received 115 shipments from 14 suppliers, with the majority coming from India (73,608 shipments), Vietnam (49,460 shipments), and Japan (32,688 shipments) as of April 2023. These imports are essential for high-speed internet networks and smart building connectivity.

Key Suppliers and Manufacturers Fortune International has been a pioneer in Myanmar's fiber optic sector, importing cables since 2010 and maintaining high-speed networks in Yangon and Mandalay. They serve over 1,000 customers and have the capacity to handle more than 300,000 households. Alibaba lists 23 fiber optic cable suppliers and manufacturers in Myanmar, including OEM and ODM options, which can be leveraged for factory-scale smart building projects. Merry Mesh Network Integration provides turnkey solutions, including design, installation, and maintenance of fiber optic networks, and is an authorized distributor of Fujikura Fusion Splicers, which are critical for high-quality fiber connections.

Local Cabling Companies Myanmar has a growing number of verified cabling and fiber optics companies, with at least 20 top firms operating in Yangon and other regions. These companies offer installation, maintenance, and integration services suitable for smart building infrastructure.
