

Price of polymer cable trays in China and Africa

AI Overview

Polymer cable trays in China typically range from $15 to $50 per meter depending on material, size, and specifications, while prices in Africa are generally higher due to import costs and local market factors.

Pricing in China In China, polymer cable trays are widely manufactured and available from multiple suppliers, including factory-direct and OEM options. Prices vary based on material type (fiberglass, epoxy resin, or composite polymers), tray design (ladder, solid-bottom, trough, or wire mesh), and load capacity. Typical price ranges are approximately $15–$50 per meter for standard polymer cable trays, with higher-end or flame-retardant models costing more. Bulk orders or OEM customization can reduce per-unit costs, and factory-direct sourcing often provides the most competitive pricing.

Pricing Considerations in Africa In African markets, polymer cable trays are often imported from China or other international suppliers. Prices are generally higher due to shipping, import duties, and local distribution costs. Depending on the country and port logistics, the cost can increase by 20–50% or more compared to Chinese factory prices. Local suppliers may also add margins for storage, handling, and compliance with regional standards. For example, a tray costing $20 per meter in China could range from $25 to $40 per meter in African markets, excluding installation costs.

Factors Affecting Price

- Material and durability: Fiberglass and epoxy trays are more expensive than standard polymer composites due to higher corrosion and chemical resistance.
- Tray type and size: Ladder trays for heavy-duty applications are costlier than wire mesh or solid-bottom trays.
- Customization: OEM or specific size requirements increase cost.
- Volume: Bulk purchases reduce per-unit price.
- Shipping and import duties: Particularly relevant for African markets, where logistics can significantly impact final cost.
