

Quotation for Double-Bridge Mesh Cable Tray

AI Overview

You can request a quotation for Double-Bridge Mesh Cable Trays from suppliers like Cablofil, MP Husky, Belden, or Alibaba, providing project specifications for an accurate estimate. How to Request a Quotation

Cablofil (Legrand): Cablofil offers wire mesh cable trays and accessories suitable for bridging gaps without field cutting. You can explore their product catalog and request a quote directly through their website. They provide fast delivery and modular solutions for industrial and data center projects, ensuring reliable installation and safety compliance (Cablofil).

MP Husky: MP Husky provides a dedicated Wire Mesh Cable Tray quotation form. You need to submit project details such as tray dimensions, load requirements, and quantity. They will return a completed estimate and proposal promptly, and may contact you for additional information if needed (MP Husky).

Belden: Belden's WireMesh Cable Trays are designed for high-current and low-current distributions. You can browse their catalog to select the appropriate tray type and request a quote for your specific project requirements (Belden).

Alibaba: Alibaba lists multiple suppliers offering CE-certified steel wire mesh trays with guarantees and free samples. You can contact suppliers directly to request a quotation based on your specifications, including tray length, width, and load capacity (Alibaba).

Pricing Guidance: Prices vary depending on material (galvanized steel, stainless steel), tray dimensions, and quantity. Standard lengths for cable trays are often 2.4 meters, with fittings priced per piece (Electrical Works).

For large projects, requesting a formal quotation ensures accurate pricing, shipping costs, and lead times.

Recommendations: Provide exact dimensions, load requirements, and quantity when requesting a quote. Specify if you need double-bridge or bridging trays to ensure the supplier recommends the correct product. Co...
